

Teaching Opportunities in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia

Advanced Generations Schools seeks to hire female elementary school educators to teach at its school in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. Minimum qualifications include two years of classroom teaching experience and either an Associate's or a Bachelor's Degree in Education.

Successful applicants will:

- Facilitate learning by establishing a relationship with students
- Develop lesson plans consistent with the Ministry of Education's curriculum objectives
- Create a positive classroom learning environment
- Develop and foster age appropriate skills and social abilities
- Link students' knowledge to earlier learning and develop ways to encourage it further
- Organize learning resources
- Assess and record student progress and prepare them for the Standard Assessments
- Challenge and inspire students to help them deepen their knowledge and understanding

For information about living and working in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia please consult the "Frequently Asked Questions" section of the Advanced Generations Schools website at

<http://ags.edu.sa/viewOneArticleDetails/83/166>

Minimum Requirements:

- Six Positions: Associate's Degree in Education and at least two years teaching experience
- Four Positions: Bachelor's Degree in Education and at least two years teaching experience

To Apply send the following to apply-ags@oneworldarchives.org.

- A cover letter
- Your resume
- Names and phone numbers of two references
- Unofficial copy of your transcript

Salary: Compensation is commensurate with education and experience

Contract Term: Two Years

Selection process: An initial screening of credentials to determine qualifications; an online interview with Advanced Generations Schools officials; interviewed applicants notified of application status.

Application Process Questions: Contact Norman Harris, PhD | 404-558-2923 | nharris@oneworldarchives.org

Applications received by 25 March 2011 will receive the fullest consideration.